

FRICTION IN COUNCIL.

Harsh Words Between Members at Regular Meeting Tuesday Evening

OVER AWARDING OF CONTRACTS.

Public Grounds Receive the Attention of Street Committee—Report of Burgess Patterson for Two Months and Treasurer Rutter's Report.

Councilman William McCormick and George Porter clashed on the red carpet during the regular meeting of the Municipal Fathers last night and for a while the hottest war of words during the Reform administration was waged. The trouble ended with Attorney W. H. Brown admonishing McCormick to keep cool and E. N. Stahl rising to a point of order.

It all came about through a discussion of the manner of receiving bids for the paving of Crawford avenue and Vine and East Fayette streets. Porter made a motion to the effect that sealed bids be received up till noon on July 5, and that the bids be presented in person to Council by the bidders, or be presented to the clerk and opened in open meeting by him. McCormick amended this motion by a proviso authorizing the street committee to receive bids the day before and open, properly arranged and tabulate them. He claimed this would save considerable trouble and inconvenience on the meeting night.

"Yes, that's the trouble," said Councilman Porter, "the bids are always 'fixed up' before Council sees them." "What do you mean by 'fixed up'?" asked President Stahl. "I mean just what I say," was the answer. "But what does 'fixed up' mean?" persisted the president. "It means that there has been crooked work done in this Council by giving the street committee the right to juggle the bids," said Mr. Porter. "In my desk at home I have envelopes on which are written the names of the bidders, and I have revealed. I know what I am talking about." McCormick then butted in and said the "crooked work" had been done under Republican rule, and Porter came back at him with an offer to prove his statements. There was a blue haze in the air when the trouble was over.

The amendment was voted upon and lost. The original motion was then passed by a good majority and the bids will be opened early.

The straightening of East alley came in for a long share of discussion. W. H. Brown gave an opinion on the matter, stating that the alley could be opened up to a width of 20 feet, the same as originally intended upon the plan of Zachariah Connell, who laid out the lots. The borough engineer was consulted and after considerable wrangling it was decided to widen the alley to 20 feet from Main street to Fairview avenue and to have the property owners who are affected vacate at once.

Petitions were presented and accepted for the paving of North alley between Pittsburg street and Eighth street, and for building a sidewalk between Pittsburg street and Mountain alley. Rev. G. L. Lohman asked that an article be placed at Mountain alley and South alley, and proposed, if the light is not practical, to keep the lower lights on his church burning if the borough would stand a reasonable part of the expense.

When President Stillwagon asked if there was anything on police, William McCormick answered promptly: "All perfect. Nothing to say." The matter of improving the public grounds was the source of considerable contention. A motion decided that the entire area of the grounds, which extend to the wall line of the Trans-Allegheny Hotel be claimed and that the grounds be filled in up level with the hotel. Robert Feltz made an appeal in behalf of Porter, Newberry, asking that a five-foot sidewalk be left along the north side of the grounds. It was explained that this would not be possible as Council could neither sell or give away public property. The original motion was then passed and the borough engineer instructed to prepare plans for the improvement.

The census returns are about completed, and an unofficial return shows the population of Connellville proper to be 9,500. This is an increase of 2,000 over the returns of the census of 1900 and puts Connellville within a few hundred of the 10,000 mark. The official returns will be made in a short time.

PROVED AN ALIBI.

New Haven Nimrods Were Discharged by Justice William Berger.

Thomas Whitman and Charles Kerns, two New Haven fishermen, were given a hearing before Justice of the Peace W. H. Berger in New Haven this morning, on a charge of violating the state fish laws, but were discharged. The information was made against them by G. D. Shannon, state fish warden. For witnesses he had several B. & O. men who testified that the two defendants were shooting fish along the Young river Friday night of last week.

Whitman and Kerns both proved an alibi and the cases were dismissed by Squire Berger. He said this morning, "I dismissed the cases because there was serious doubt about the guilt of the defendants, and because the law provides that convicted defendants cannot take an appeal without going into court. I think in such cases the evidence should be conclusive."

PROHIBITION CONVENTION.

State Gathering at Uniontown Down to Business This Afternoon.

Uniontown, June 5.—[Special.]—The State Prohibition Convention convened here this morning, but aside from the appointment of committees little was done before adjournment. At 2 o'clock this afternoon the convention will convene again and get down to business. A candidate for Supreme Court is to be nominated. If successful, he is to be elected and 11 delegates to the National Prohibition Convention, which meets at Minneapolis this month. Immediately after adjournment this morning the State Central Committee met and selected Charles R. Jones of Philadelphia State Chairman for the ensuing year.

EIGHT ENGINES SHOPPED.

Will Give Extra Men Chance for Making Better Time.

Eight regular engines were placed in the Connellville shops of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad on Monday since the extra men on the Connellville yard. The laying of these engines will give and Pittsburg divisions a better show for time. A number of the young engineers have come back to living until business picks up. They can make more money living than they can on the right hand side of the cat.

As quickly as it is found possible the work on the B. & O. is being divided so only as few trainmen and engine crews as possible will have to be laid off.

THE FATS ACCEPT.

Will Play the Leans Game of Base Ball Next Tuesday.

The Fats have accepted the challenge of the Leans and will play them a game of base ball at Marietta & Stillwagon park next Tuesday afternoon. They think it is a cinch that they can beat the gentlemen of lanky proportions.

It is likely that if the Leans don't back down and crawl out of the same old business houses in town will be closed Tuesday afternoon for the game. At least that has been suggested.

Glad to Have Him Back.

Vanderbilt, June 5.—[Special.]—The many friends of Motorman Phil Moore are glad to see him on the Vanderbilt run again. Now that he has returned we hope it will be to stay for his careful management of his car and genial and accommodating ways are appreciated by patrons of the trolley line.

FIGHT IN PROSPECT.

Elkin's Friends Persistent in Their Demand That He Succeed Quay.

CONFERENCE AT HARRISBURG.

Penrose and Elkin Are Reported to Have Had Stormy Interview—Governor Pennypacker Dines Penrose and Durham at Executive Mansion.

Philadelphia, June 5.—Prior to going to the state capital to confer with Governor Pennypacker on the vacancy created by the death of Senator Quay, Senator Penrose and Insurance Commissioner Durham held meetings with local and state leaders on the situation. Before leaving the city both Penrose and Durham reiterated their statements that no one had yet been agreed upon.

Ex-Attorney General John P. Elkin of Indiana, who was defeated for the gubernatorial nomination two years ago and who was recently nominated by the state convention for justice of the supreme court for a term of 21 years at a salary of $10,000 per annum, is a candidate against the field. Allegheny county has put forth four candidates, two of whom are being seriously considered. They are George T. Oliver and William Flynn.

Rumor has it that State Chairman Penrose and Mr. Durham are opposed to Elkin and that they look with favor upon Mr. Oliver. Outside of Philadelphia and Allegheny counties Mr. Elkin is quite strong. On this account his friends declare he should be named for the vacant place.

There are persistent rumors about that Senator Penrose and Mr. Elkin have had a stormy interview and strained relations exist between them. These rumors were put point blank to Mr. Elkin, but he would neither confirm nor deny them. If they be true, a contest within the party organization may be looked for. State Senator B. K. Focht, a strong Elkin supporter, said that the organization can prevent a serious fight this fall by uniting on Elkin.

Among those who called on Senator Penrose were Richard R. Quay, a son of the late Senator Quay, and Mitchell, president of the mine workers' union. Mr. Quay said he called on personal affairs. The nature of President Mitchell's business with the senator was not announced, but it is said he called to protest against Mr. Oliver being named for State Senator.

Harrisburg, June 5.—A conference to determine whether the senatorial vacancy created by Senator Quay's death shall be filled by appointment or by an extra session of the legislature was held between Governor Pennypacker, United States Senator Penrose and Insurance Commissioner Durham, last night. The governor spent several hours examining the law and it is thought he has reached a decision and will announce it in the near future.

FIGHT ON BECKHAM.

Anti-Machine Democrats Will Attempt to Control Kentucky Convention.

Louisville, June 5.—The Kentucky Democrats will hold their state convention today to name delegates to the national convention and elect state committee members.

Though the delegates are rather apathetic as regards the presidential race and are practically certain to vote for an un instructed delegation, the contest for the control of the party machinery promises to develop into one of the hottest fights seen in recent years. On one side are arrayed Governor Beckham and the administration forces. Opposing them is the "anti-machine" element, led by United States Senators Blackburn and McCrary and Congressman D. H. Smith.
